

Access to quality healthcare is only part of the picture

INVITATION

Community Consultations

Your organization provides services to citizens of the Cowichan region and you have firsthand knowledge of strengths and gaps influencing health and wellbeing.

Our Cowichan research and asset mapping project is examining 12 key determinants of health affecting how well our citizens are doing.

We want to go beyond statistics to learn more about our communities.

We invite you to share your knowledge of your community and those you serve.

Your input will inform this work and assist in identifying the people and resources best positioned to respond.
